

THE TEST OF MERIT

Barre People Are Given Convincing Proof.

No better test of any article can be made than the test of time, and this is particularly true of a kidney medicine. Doan's Kidney Pills have stood this test and stood it well. What better proof of the merits of this remedy could you demand, than the statement of a Barre resident who has been cured and has stayed cured?

Read the following:

Mrs. Annie Gibb, 31 Brooklyn street, Barre, Vt., says: "I am just as strong in my prime of Doan's Kidney Pills today as when I publicly recommended them several years ago. They cured me at that time and I am glad to say there has been no return of my old trouble. For over a year I had more or less backache, it being the result of disordered kidneys. If I brought any strain on the muscles of my back, sharp pains seized me and I also suffered at times from headaches and dizzy spells. When I overworked or caught cold, my suffering was always more intense. I read a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills and decided to try them, procured a box at E. A. Brown's drug store. Before I had finished the contents, the pains in my back were relieved and I felt better in every way. I have the best reason for speaking in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills and I am perfectly willing to recommend them in this way."

Saved at Death's Door.

The door of death seemed ready to open for Murray W. Ayer, of Thetford, N. Y., when his life was wonderfully saved. "I was in a dreadful condition," he writes, "my skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, emaciated from losing 40 pounds, groaning with pain, violent liver trouble pulling me down to death in spite of doctors. Then, at last, medicine—Electric Bitters—cured me. I regained the 40 pounds lost and now am well and strong." For all stomach, liver and kidney troubles, they're superior. 50c at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

Rev. J. Edward Wright of Montpelier will preach at the Universalist church here next Sunday morning, January 30.

On account of the illness of his father, Joseph Bruce is at home from work, just now, at the store of C. M. Edson.

The members of the I. O. O. F. lodge here are asked to be present at a practice meeting at their hall on Friday evening of this week.

The president of the Village Improvement society desires that all members shall be present at the meeting at their rooms next Friday evening.

Miss Rachel Bruce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bruce, came home from Springfield, Mass., last Tuesday on account of the illness of her father.

It is reported that there is to be a council in the case of Bert Bruce, and we have heard Dr. W. R. Mayo of Northfield spoken of as one who is to see him.

James Hogan has till March 1 to remain on Dexter M. Jones' place, where we hear he will likely return to Barre. We are glad to hear of his improved health.

P. J. Matheson, who lost a house by fire in Foxville recently, tells us he had an insurance of $800 on the building. He estimates the loss above that to be at least $600.

From what we hear, we judge that a very great treat is in store for all our citizens who shall attend the farmers' institute at our Grange hall next Saturday, January 29.

Mrs. Luther M. Waldo, who has been here with her sister-in-law, Mrs. T. C. Waldo, quite a good deal in the last year, is staying in her own home in Barre City at present.

Our postmaster wants everybody to know that after the 15th of February all mail matter to go into boxes on the R. F. D. routes must have stamps on it before being put into the boxes.

Our Grand Army post was organized in 1892, with 28 members, and later there was an addition of one more member. The number is now reduced to nine members, but the organization will be kept up another year.

Blacksmith Bert Bruce seems to be having a serious time with the limb into which he stuck a knife blade not very long ago. It has been badly swollen about the knee, and we hear of copious discharges from the limb.

There was a little interruption last week in some part of the R. F. D. service in town because of "soft traveling," but thus far this winter season, we think our mail carriers consider that they have been quite remarkably favored.

Mrs. George W. Holden and Mrs. Hiram S. Drury, members of the Birth-day club, in the northeast quarter of the town, have each their next birthday next Sunday. Of course, something fine will be done by the club Saturday or Monday.

Mrs. Jason H. Jeffords is yet with her only daughter, Mary, in Hardwick. In answer to our inquiry, we were told that while her arm that was paralyzed at one time is not yet the old-time strong arm, she can write with it by a proper adjustment of it on a table.

The benefit for Mr. and Mrs. Randall Wood, given by our Grange last Tuesday evening, amounted to $28. Mr. and Mrs. Wood have been members of the Grange for several years. Mr. Wood's broken limb is said to be doing well at the Heston hospital, Montpelier.

Veteran Dexter M. Jones has had his pension increased from $17 to $24 a month. He served in the war of the rebellion three years, in the 4th Vermont Infantry regiment, and he has the name of having been a good soldier. Many will be glad of this increase in pension now.

At the benefit given Mr. and Mrs. Randall Wood by our Grange Tuesday evening, Mrs. Clinton Chase, "Ade" E. House, W. E. Randall, Clayton Spencer and Mrs. Maynard F. Spencer gave their musical services, for which the Grange committee desires publicly to express its appreciation and thanks.

The Mr. McInnes, living in the Albert M. Goodrich district, is unfortunate enough to have illness in his family, requiring, we hear, that his wife and son should go to a hospital in Boston. Consequently, the friends and neighbors made up a little purse of upwards of $30 and presented it to the family.

Some months ago, Pat Kelly, on the old S. Walker farm, bought of Albert R. Martin a few acres of land of the old Col. R. C. Veeder farm, near the four corners at the entrance of the Howards. Mr. Kelly has faith that there would be a demand for a new tenement there, and we hear he is getting ready to build.

Humorist R. R. Weeks told us at his entertainment here last Monday that as he was about to start on an ocean trip he consulted the ship's doctor to learn how he might guard against sea sickness, etc. "What shall I have to do, doctor?" he asked, to which came the reply: "You will not have to do anything. It will do itself." Isn't that a way out of a lot of things?

Whenever our granite troubles shall be fully settled—and for some years to come, as we hope—we expect to see few or no empty tenements here, and business in a good, healthy condition. In spite of any "way-backness" that our town may be charged with, we believe it has been found by many workmen, with and without families, that it is a pretty good town to live in, after all.

The fourth entertainment in our winter course furnished by the Village Improvement society was given at the new Grange hall last Monday evening by the Village Concert company. This company consists of Edwin R. Weeks, pianist, impersonator, etc., Miss Lulu Sinclair, violinist, and Miss Lucia Gillespie, pianist. A good deal was to be expected of these artists because of their recommendations and professions, and the expectations of their audience seemed to have been fulfilled, for it was an evening of fine music and mirth, and the most generous applause testified to the hearty reception of it. One of our principal business men said that he was so tired at the end of his day's work Monday that he hardly cared whether he should attend the concert or not, but he went and wholly forgot his fatigue in the enjoyment of it. Mr. Weeks seems to have an inexhaustible fund of delicious humor and ready to come from

MONTPELIER.

Death of Robert Avery, Yesterday, After Long Illness.

Robert Avery, 25 years of age, died yesterday afternoon at the home of his step-father, John Boro. The young man was better known in this city by the name of Boro and had been ill a long time with a complication of diseases. He was born here and has been traveling with a show in the South, where he contracted a fever. He was in a hospital in Georgia for three months, but never fully recovered from the effects of the fever. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. John Boro, and a sister in Rutland.

Charles Ryle, who has been at home from the Pittsford sanatorium but a short time, is ill with pneumonia.

The city council held its regular meeting last night, but little business was transacted. Several bills were ordered paid and a few licenses granted.

Miss Anna Hurd, captain of the Salvation Army corps, is still very ill with nervous prostration, and her mother, Mrs. Emma Hurd, of Manchester, N. H., is caring for her.

Mrs. Elmina Dodge Jilson has been removed from Heston hospital to the home of C. G. Drury. She is seriously ill and on account of her advanced age, 94 years, little can be done for her. She has been an invalid for a long time.

The funeral services of John W. Kendall, father of Frank Kendall of this city, were held yesterday at the chapel at Green Mount cemetery. Rev. Homer A. Flint, rector of Christ church, officiating and the bearers were C. H. Knight, Frank Kendall, George W. Colby and Hiram Pierce.

An expert will be engaged to examine the condition in this city relative to its street wiring, which is mentioned in the complaint sent State's Attorney Benjamin Gates by the public service commission, asking a change in the system in Montpelier.

The high school basketball team defeated the first team of Montpelier yesterday last night by a score of 31 to 6 and 18 to 9. Cullen was the star of the game on the high school team and Glidden put up a stiff game for the seminary boys. In the second team game, Roberts played a good game for the high school and Voss for the seminary.

Fred Provencher was injured yesterday when one of the R. H. French delivery horses, which he was driving, ran away, dragging a heavy weight. Mr. Provencher was on the ground getting ready to deliver an order when the animal started and, as he turned to grab the bridle, the weight swung around and struck him in the leg. He was finally obliged to let go and the horse ran down the street, not injuring itself but maiming the sleigh. Mr. Provencher had no bones broken but was severely bruised.

Successful Farmers' Institute Held Last Saturday.

The Farmers' Institute held here last Saturday drew out a good company, both afternoon and evening, there being many from out of town. The meetings opened at 2 p. m. with a piano solo by Miss Mary Austin. O. L. Martin then introduced D. H. Lamberton, who gave a fine talk, urging more teaching of agriculture in our schools, by training the children to a better knowledge of the possibilities of the soil and that one of the most essential points is food and shelter, without which neither man or beast can subsist. Vermont soil being best adapted to apply agricultural knowledge. There should be two schools in Vermont where sufficient information can be obtained, of the right kind to induce more of our boys to stay at home and become farmers instead of emigrating to the West. Then we should not see so many abandoned and neglected farms. A. F. Haven next spoke on forestry and advised setting out trees for lumber on old run-down, woody pastures, where in a few years the owner could look forward to a small fortune, if trees were planted properly and thinned out so as to admit sufficient sunlight and mineral moisture. It is a false notion that forests can take care of themselves. After a piano duet by the Austin sister, Prof. Sanborn gave a profitable and instructive talk on "Extensive and Intensive Farming," after referring in a pleasing manner to Cabot high school motto, "Let Us Grow, Not Drift," comparing it to the forward movement of agricultural work at the present time and especially dairy work. The barns must be well ventilated, with plenty of light so all germs will meet early death and the stable be rid of bacteria. Study to know each cow's capacity for milk and not feed beyond that as it will prove a loss. A better way to farm with your head than with your feet. The evening session at 7:30 was ushered in with a piano duet by the Misses Mary and Marcia Austin, followed by a very interesting and instructive address by Lowell Bondhus on our "Fruit Industry." He has visited nearly every state but he sees in Vermont the best possibilities for fruit culture although it has been badly neglected. He says New England is the home of the apple and if the owners of orchards would study the cultivation of the ground and pruning of the trees, and not stick so closely to the ancestral ways, they would have better results. The soil has grown old and needs stimulation with proper fertilizers, the trees must be sprayed to rid them of the insect plagues, which were not so extensive years ago. The highest aim of all other industries is success, and why not raise luscious strawberries in Vermont? Prof. Bondhus favored the audience with a show of his "big bass" rosettes. Prof. Sanborn then gave his experience of bringing into profitable cultivation his old home farm by new and scientific methods, advising a rotation of crops on the land, fertilizing each time and making the land produce more and of a better quality. This address brought to a close a very instructive and helpful meeting and our Cabot group deserves thanks for the efforts it put forth to give the farmers in this town and other towns such a rare treat.

Mrs. Harmon Osgood died quite suddenly Monday night. Funeral to-day at 2 p. m.

J. H. Damon celebrated his 88th birthday last Saturday. Accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Whitney, he spent the day at the home of Mrs. S. J. Wells, who was passing her 77th birthday. Mr. Damon received about 80 post cards as remembrances from friends. He is the oldest man in town, quite spry and active and enjoys the society of his friends.

Costly Yerkes Art Gallery in New York to be Sold at Auction.

New York, Jan. 27.—All the costly contents of the 5th avenue residence and art gallery of the late Charles T. Yerkes are to be sold at public auction under the auspices of the American art association, although they were to have been retained, according to the provisions of the will, for the aesthetic pleasure of the citizens of New York.

Arrangements for the sales are understood to have been completed, as ordered by the U. S. circuit court for the southern district of New York, for the benefit of creditors and other interests, although no date has yet been announced.

Among the works of art the paintings alone were recently appraised by experts as worth from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000. Rembrandt, Franz Hals, Holbein and Titian are among the most famous artists represented in the collection.

A. hall, after which the evening was spent in dancing.

Miss Bullard is in Hardwick. H. H. Parker was in Hardwick Sunday.

Archie Fisher is working for George Pease. W. E. Howford has finished work for C. E. Haskell.

Codric Humphrey has been ill with a quinsy sore throat. H. H. Parker is working for the Morse Manufacturing company.

M. J. Leach purchased a driving horse in Greenboro Thursday. Miss Grace Cromwell is visiting her mother, Mrs. W. O. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Porter have returned from a visit to Vergennes. Crystal chapter, No. 9, is planning to hold a fancy bazaar Tuesday evening, February 22.

Rev. L. A. Wilson of Hardwick is holding meetings at the Congregational church every evening this week. A number from Mineral lodge, No. 93, P. and A. M., attended the thirteenth Masonic district meeting at Johnson Friday.

Alaska's Wealth of Coal. Alaska contains the only first class bituminous and anthracite coal on the Pacific coast. From the Bering river district railroads can be built to the sea, not more than 110 miles long, over perfectly level country, and, according to a published statement by Alfred H. Brooks, head of the government geological survey work in Alaska, there are 6,000,000,000 tons of it in both fields—more than one and a half times all the coal that has ever been taken out of Pennsylvania. Two-thirds of this has
